NUMBER 72

Judge H. C. Howard Nominated by Republicans.

Former County Judge H. C. Howard was nominated Saturday afternoon by the Republican County Committee as a candidate for Representative from Bourbon County. In the absence of Chairman Yerkes, the meeting was presided over by C. J. Barns. The nomination was by acclamation.

Judge Howard was notified and appeared before the committee and accepted the nomination in a graceful little speech.

Judge Howard is one of the best known attorneys at the Paris bar and for a number of years has been a Referee in Bankruptcy of the United States Court. He is popular, a good lawyer, a polished and agreeable gentleman, but at the same time he is a Republican, a sacrificial lamb, to be slaughtered by the Democrats. Too bad but such is the end of all Republican candidates who dare to run for office in old Bourbon.

The stay-at-home Democrats in November 1894 allowed Judge Howard to defeat that old Roman, Judge Russell Mann, for County Judge, but we will venture to say there will be no stay-at-home Democrats this year to allow him to repeat on the Hon. J. Hal Woodford, his Democratic opponent. Four years of Republican rule in Bourbon was enough to last for eternity and this move of the Republicans assures an old-time Democratic majority for Mr. Woodford, who has already demonstrated to our people his soundness of judgment on every question that was voted on at the last session of the Legislature.

Bradley's Speech.

Former Governor Wm. O. Bradley spoke at the court house, in this city, Friday evening, to a crowded house, in the interest of the Republican party. He is a good stumper, but at the same time we do not think he turned a single Democratic vote from the right road.

He tried to impress upon his hearers that he was the "onliest" Governor Kentucky ever had. He made serious charges against the Democratic administration, everyone of which is answered to the satisfaction of all by Governor Beckham in his speech which will be found in another part of this issue, beginning on page 2.

Autumn Sales.

Attend Harry Simon's Autumn Sale beginning Oct. 12th, closing Oct. 26th.

Meeting of Creditors Before Referee.

The first meeting of creditors of John W. Larkin, bankrupt, met in the law office of C. J. Barns, in Elks' building, last week, before Special Referee Wm. Worthington, of Lexington. J. D. McClintock, one of the largest creditors, having received a judgment in the Bourbon Circuit Court for $1,500 and costs desired the appointment of attorney N. C. Fisher as trustee. The other creditors presented the name of James M. O'Brien, who was selected. Attorneys Barns and Williams for the bankrupts, filed exceptions to the claim of McClintock for costs incurred in the suit in the Circuit Court aggregating nearly $1,000 and were sustained by the referee.

Messrs. Barns and Williams are in receipt from the Clerk of the United States Court of discharges in bankruptcy in the cases of H. C. Smith, colored, Chas. T. Hough, H. S. Clay, Morin Moore, A. B. Thomson and Wyatt A. Thompson, all of whom were members of the Republican County Committee, against whom McClintock secured judgment in the Bourbon Circuit Court in the sum of $1,500 each and for costs.

A Shock to the Racing People.

Like a bolt of lightning from a sky that is clear came the announcement Saturday afternoon by the officials of the New Louisville Jockey Club that the fall race meeting, which was to have begun to-morrow afternoon at Churchill Downs, would not be held.

With this announcement came the declaration that the officials of this Louisville racing body, the oldest turf organization in this country, had surrendered absolutely and completely the dates which had been allotted it by the State Racing Commission, and that no attempt would be made to produce the sport which all Kentucky loves.

This action was taken after an extended conference among the directors of the Jockey Club in obedience to a letter received the day before from Sheriff A. Scott Bullitt. In this letter, which was printed broadcast, the sheriff announced that he would prevent wagering in any form on the contests which it was proposed to begin this week.

The surprise was caused principally by the fact that for thirty-four years the sport has continued without interruption or question from the law makers or the officials of Kentucky.

Results of Live Commercial Club.

Winchester won over Lexington, after a spirited contest, in securing the site for the big tobacco sample house for the Equity people.

The credit of this victory which means so much to Winchester must be attributed to the Commercial Club of that city, whose efforts to secure its location in Winchester have been unremitting. The location of this warehouse there makes Winchester the largest tobacco market in the world. Cincinnati and Louisville were also competitors. The citizens of Paris can see by this what benefit a live Commercial Club is to a city.

A Rooseveltian War.

That entertaining Republican newspaper, the New York Sun, declares that sending the fleet of battleships to the Pacific is not for practice purposes but for war on Japan. As the Sun has unusually good opportunities for probing the inside mysteries of the Administration, it is alarming to learn its opinion that: "The navy is going to the Pacific Ocean for war with Japan, and Japan recognizes the fact and is energetically preparing for it. Once the operation of transferring our ships to Pacific waters has been accomplished war is inevitable. It is an insane project."

"The American people do not want to go to war with Japan nor with any other country; but the American people are apparently without recourse or voice. There is little or no hope that Congress will dare to oppose the President's plans."

"It is one of the most serious situations that have confronted this country, and the only mitigating consideration that we are able to discern in that activity of the Navy Department—and of the War Department too—is at the present moment indicative of a full sense of gravity of the impending crises."

Possibly the Sun may be right in its diagnosis of the Rooseveltian intention, for any Dan Quixote project in present Administration, but it can hardly be possible that a majority of Congress could be brought to do so wicked and foolish a thing as to declare war against Japan. The only real reason for such action would be for the purpose of perpetuating the Republican party in power and the breaking of all precedents by the re-election for a third term of Theodore Roosevelt. Those two calamities would be co-existent. As the majority of the American people are not yet daft, we will still hope that the Sun is mistaken.

What is Ownership.

Stewardship is not ownership, was the burden of the talk of Bishop Ingram in Trinity church, New York. That church is at the head of Wall Street, and most of the Bishop's auditors were from Wall Street. In law, the Bishop was a little mixed. There is in law a vast difference between stewardship and ownership; but in morals he was right. Private property is the result of social compact. It is artificial. It is not a matter of religion or morality, but of compact. Yet all solemn and general compacts must be respected. Good faith requires this. But bad faith on the part of the holder, or owner, of private property is, and always has been, a ground of forfeiture. Bad faith is treason to the public. What the good Bishop meant was that ownership being a matter of compact, amounted virtually to stewardship—to the rightful use of private property for the benefit of the community. Property is like a gun, when used in self defense only, its use is lawful and just. But when used to destroy his neighbor as a means of self-aggrandizement to mere revenge, such use is criminal; and in that case forfeiture is the only remedy. This is the old doctrine of deodands.

Evidently "Delighted."

The President has now come to the state of declining to talk about the third term, but is evidently "delighted" with the persistency of his admirers. It is suggested he would like to see the Republican National Convention deadlock on several candidates, and then nominate him in sheer despair of agreement on anyone else. Would he take chances on overcoming the strong opposition in his own party to a third term and go back on his plighted word? are the questions worrying most of the Republican leaders.

Aint it the Truth?

For undaunted gall, the plea of Republicans that Democrats should vote the Republican ticket to purify politics takes the cake, oven, bakery and entire National Biscuit Trust formed and fostered under Republican dominion. Why, bless your honest soul, what the Republicans wouldn't steal in politics isn't worth stealing. They hold the record of having stolen even the Presidency. — Cynthia's Democrat.

Democrats, Wake Up.

The time has arrived when every real, genuine, true-blue Democrat should get busy and impress upon the Democratic voters of the rural districts that the success of our party in November depends upon them. It is very important that the country Democrats go to the polls and vote. There is no use hiding behind the bush—the Republican party in Bourbon county has an organization that is at work. They have polled every precinct in the county and if they get the Republican vote out and a number of luke warm Democrats stay at home, old Bourbon will be counted in the Republican ranks.

Holy Gee, think of it! [Bourbon county in the Republican column. It is enough to make a man turn green in the face. Democrats, wake up and do your duty, are you will regret it for the balance of your life.]

Adopt Sis' Philosophy.

What has the Republican party in Kentucky done for you—for the State? They have made specious promises, which like the proverb apple crust were quickly broken. They have dealt in glittering generalities which was as unsubstantial as the mist of the morning, and proved to be only sound and nothing more. The voters should adopt Sis Hopkins' philosophy and conclude that "it ain't no use to do nothing for nobody what ain't done nothing for me," this Fall and cast their vote for the party that has made Kentucky one of the most prosperous States in America. There is a vast difference between deeds well done and the explosion of "hot air."

Good to the Farmer.

In no department has the Democratic management accomplished more than in the Agricultural Bureau. Farmer's Institutes, a State Fair, a Labor Bureau, expert lecturers, a Forestry Department, and one of Immigration are interesting farmers in every section and the farmer is having more money devoted to his welfare than ever before in the history of the State. The Labor Bureau branch has accomplished much for life and health of the laboring classes.

Future Legislation.

Every teacher is vitally interested in at least five things, viz: better school houses, better equipment, longer terms, larger salaries and a stronger recognition of the dignity and responsibility of the profession of teaching. It has been said that "Nothing succeeds like success." When the teachers of the State, through their organization, appeared before the Democratic General Assembly in 1906, that Assembly passed every educational bill presented by them. The teachers are now looking forward to the passage of the Acts increasing the school term from 6 to 8 months, establishing a minimum salary of not less than $40.00 per month, providing for a system of County High Schools.

Prices Here and Abroad.

While prices here are rapidly advancing it is comforting to know that in the Panama Canal zone there is a reduction in the price of various articles. This interesting information is given in the "Canal Record," the official organ of the government of the Isthmian Canal zone. For instance, granulated sugar in five pound sacks in August was 23 cents, now it is 20 cents; yellow sugar was 4 cents, now it is 3 cents; Jamacan cigars have fallen in price from 15 to 10 cents. Currants that were 12 cents now can be obtained for 10 cents per pound. The best grade of Central American coffee, formerly 26 cents per pound, is now 24 cents, and another grade that was 23 cents has been reduced to 21 cents per pound. Why prices are declining in Panama and advancing here, the editor of the "Canal Record" does not venture to say. Can it be possible that the Sugar Trust, the Tobacco Trust, and the other corporations that plunder the people of the United States by virtue of the trust protecting tariff that our Republican trust loving politicians refuse to revise, be selling cheaper in the Canal zone to the Jamaica negroes and other foreign laborers than to our own people? We pause for a reply.

WITHOUT A PARALLEL

For Inaccuracy, Misrepresentation and Deception, Are the Campaign Utterances of Former Governor Bradley.

Thus Says Governor Beckham In Notable Speech at Stanton.

The Democratic Chief Executive Does Not Mince Words In Dealing With His Predecessor.

Says His Charges Are as Reckless and Untruthful as In 1895 Campaign.

Tells Why Bradley Won't Discuss Goebel Assassination.

Stanton, Ky., Oct. 10.—Declaring that the Republican state campaign is based upon falsehood and deception, and that its chief exponent upon the stump, former Governor W. O. Bradley, is guilty in his speeches of perversion of records and distortion of facts in a vain effort to cover up the weakness of his cause, Governor Beckham in a speech to the voters here today handled his predecessor without gloves, not mincing words in answering the charges which Bradley is making. He denounced Bradley's utterances as "without a parallel for inaccuracy, misrepresentation and deception."

Charges Completely Riddled.

Taking up the statements and charges made by the former governor, the present chief executive riddled them completely, showing in detail wherein they are either childish or deliberate misrepresentations, and that the Republican method of peddling slanders, forgeries and falsehoods is for the purpose, if possible, to divert the minds of the voters from the real facts. He charged the ex-governor with being the man most responsible for the temporary reign of the fugitive Taylor, and declared that Bradley might have averted the great calamity, the assassination of William Goebel, who once did him a great favor, if he had communicated to him instead of to those later charged with complicity in that monstrous crime, the fact that his life was being threatened by men brought to Frankfort by Taylor, Powers and others.

J. C. W. BECKHAM.

The Governor's Great Speech.

The speech of Governor Beckham, dealing with the charges of former Governor Bradley, and refuting them, is as follows:

In his carefully prepared speech at Princeton on Sept. 24th, which was printed in the newspapers, and in his subsequent speeches, Governor Bradley shows the utter weakness of the Republican cause in this campaign, and in effect confesses their inability to meet the real issues of it. With a lame and futile satire he seeks to ridicule what he cannot answer. He ignores many of the most important questions in the campaign, and by artful and ingenious deceptions undertakes to confuse the minds of the voters. He does not hesitate to disregard facts, pervert records and distort figures in his vain effort to cover up the weakness of his cause. I shall show before I get through with him that he has not only stated things which were untrue, but which he should have known to be untrue. His utterances in this campaign are as reckless and as untruthful as they were in the campaign of 1895, when, with false charges and promises, he deceived the people of Kentucky into electing him governor. In that campaign he slanderously charged the Democratic administration of the state with fraud and corruption, and promised to the people that if elected governor and his party placed in power when they could "get a look at the books," they would show up this fraud and corruption. For over four years he and his party had control of the state government and of the public records, and I repeat that they have never to this day reported the discovery of a single act of fraud or corruption upon the part of previous Democratic administrations.

Pitiful and Childish.

But how does the distinguished ex-governor, when confronted with this answer to his charges in that campaign, seek to escape it? In his speech he says: "In 1896, when the Republicans went into office, there was not enough money in the treasury to pay an expert bookkeeper to look at the books on account of Democratic indebtedness." This is so pitiful and childish that no intelligent citizen will let him off with such an excuse. He had under his own appointment a state inspector and examiner, drawing $3,000 a year and expenses, with the right to employ assistants, whose duty it was, under the direction of the governor, to make such investigations of the books. Why doesn't Governor Bradley own up like a man and confess to the truth that they did make this investigation into the books and utterly failed to find anything wrong? His reference to the Tate matter is of no credit to him or to his party, because that defalcation was discovered and exposed by a Democratic administration, and Tate's bondsmen forced to make good the loss to the state by Democratic officials before Bradley came into office. The promises which he and his party made in that campaign were equally as false and insincere as were the charges.

Every intelligent citizen in Kentucky knows that the administration of the state under Bradley and Taylor, from January, 1896, to February, 1900, was full of mismanagement, disaster and crime. It came into power under false pretenses and it went out of power in a carnival of lawlessness and assassination. Mr. Willson, the Republican candidate for governor, whose chief spokesman Governor Bradley is, must stand upon that record of his party, and cannot expect to deceive the people again in this campaign as they did in 1895. The attempt of Governor Bradley in this speech to account for the grievous mismanagement of our finances during their administration is so weak and so poor that it deserves hardly any mention at all. In his printed speech there are three long columns taken up with a jumbled mass of figures, so arranged as to confuse rather than to illuminate the subject. An expert accountant could not reach any intelligent conclusion from such an arrangement, and it is clear that Governor Bradley himself was lost in the statistical maze of his own figures. He cannot repudiate his responsibility for Taylor and Taylor's administration. No man was more responsible for Taylor's temporary power than Bradley was; he was chief counsel and adviser while Taylor was acting governor. He was in Frankfort all the time and was Taylor's leading attorney in the contest cases. His own administration was bad enough, but he and his party cannot escape the added evil of Taylor's administration. Even if we should grant his request to hold them responsible only to the end of his administration in January, 1900, the comparison with Democratic administration would be altogether in our favor.

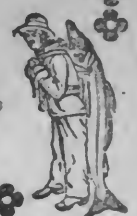

Charge Falls to the Ground.

He states that while Taylor was governor there was a dual government in the state, and that the Democrats as well as the Republicans were expending the state's money. That is not true. I was sworn in as governor on February 26th. The other Democratic officials were not sworn in until February 26th, and it was long after that before we paid out a cent of the state's money. So his charge that we were responsible for any of the reckless expenditures under Taylor falls to the ground. It is not supported by the records or facts, and nobody knows better than Governor Bradley the truth about it. He knows, too, that the Democratic administration afterward had to pay off the greater part of the expenses for Taylor's lawless soldiery as well as their debts incurred during that disastrous administration. According to his figures the state was in debt above its assets when he assumed office, $1,421,498. If we take his figures—and no one will believe that he has understated the amount—the records show that they left the financial affairs of the state infinitely worse than they found them, notwithstanding that his administration increased the tax rate from 42½ cents to 52½ cents on $100, and doubled the bonded debt of the state by borrowing $500,000. The records show that when the Democrats took charge in February, 1900, the state was in debt above its assets $1,699,657.36, and according to his own figures it shows that they left the state with a debt of $277,659.36 larger than the debt which he says existed when he came into office. These are the cold, plain facts, from which he cannot escape; which are clear to the simplest mind, and which he tries to dodge by printing three newspaper columns of inaccurate figures to confuse the minds of the voters.

He knows that the Democratic administration has wiped out the entire gathered at the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' Association track, General Watts declared the champion three-year-old trotter Wednesday afternoon in the fifteenth renewal of the Kentucky Futurity, while Kentucky Todd, winner of the two-year-old division last year, and regarded as the invincible three-year-old of this season, was never in the hunt, not even being able to beat the distance flag in the third and last heat.

The veteran driver, Mike Bowerman, was behind General Watts. The first-class heat was 2:11.

The Tennessee State, 2:06 class pacing, was won by Hedgewood Boy.
 Best time 2:03.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear.
 There is only one way to cure deafness,
 and that is by constitutional remedies.
 Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

What the School

Did for

Arthur Woodmansee

WE are proud of his record and that of hundreds of others like him, because they prove that the right kind of a boy or girl will find the

Bartlett Commercial College

a stepping stone to success.

Read what Arthur Woodmansee says: "When I was at the school you remember my taking the Civil Service Exam. Well, I passed fine and when I was a week out of school, I got the appointment at $60. Now I am getting $70 and have a promise for a raise on the 1st. I've got an elegant job in the Naval Bureau of the Navigation Department. Your school deserves the credit for my success."

We want you to realize that the

Bartlett Commercial College

Cincinnati, Ohio

has years of uninterrupted success behind it. For years it has been producing the kind of Bookkeepers and Stenographers that succeed because they are trained to succeed.
 That's why its graduates are sought by the best business houses in Cincinnati and elsewhere.

Send for the catalogue, which tells the story of a successful school.

A Bold Step.

To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret, medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N.
 Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of put-up medicines for domestic use, and so has published broadcast and openly to the whole world, a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines. Thus he has taken his numerous patrons and patients into his full confidence. Thus too he has removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merits, and made them Remedies of Known Composition.

By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence

that he is not afraid to subject them to the fullest scrutiny.

Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomach, terpid liver or biliousness and all catarrhal diseases wherever located, have printed upon it, in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, but a small book has been compiled from numerous standard medical works, of all the different schools of p. cures, containing very numerous extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines.
 One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postal card or by letter, to R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and requesting the same. From this little book it will be learned that Dr. Pierce's medicines contain no alcohol, narcotics, mineral agents or other poisonous or injurious ac-ions and that they are made from native, medical roots of great value; also that some of the most valuable ingredients contained in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak and debilitated women, were employed, long years ago, by the Indians for similar ailments affecting their squaws. In fact, one of the most valuable medicinal plants entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was known to the Indians as "Squaw-Weed." Our knowledge of the uses of a few of our most valuable native medical plants was gained from the Indians.

As made up by improved and exact procedures, the "Favorite Prescription" is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the most important functions, correcting displacements,
 as prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. Sold by all dealers in medicines.

Father Abducts Son and On Way to Paris.

The Los Angeles (Cal.) Examiner of Sept. 27, says:

"Keep your temper and don't worry. I will return as suddenly as I left. Have gone to Paris, Ky."

This is the message left behind by William McCormick, of 1168 East
 Thirty-second street when he abducted his three-year-old son, Jesse Williams McCormick, and disappeared from his home Sunday afternoon.

"His wife, Mrs. Mary McCormick, is prostrated with grief over the loss of her husband and baby boy. According to Mrs. McCormick, the man had threatened when the boy was but a few months old to steal him away from her when he was three years old.

"Mrs. McCormick also declares that Mrs. Belle Miles, the mother of her husband, deserted her own husband in Long Beach and has gone with the man and baby. She has appealed to the "Examiner" to aid her in finding the recreant husband and her son.

"According to Mrs. McCormick, her husband took the child with him to church Sunday morning. The pair returned home to their dinner, but immediately after went out ostensibly for a walk. They did not return.
 "Late in the evening Mrs. McCormick became suspicious and started out to search for them. She went to Long Beach, where the mother of the young man lived, only to find that the mother was also missing.
 "Monday morning a postal telling her not to worry, that he would return as suddenly as he left, was received at her home. The card was posted in Los Angeles before McCormick left, and declared that he was on his way to Paris, Ky.

"Now Mrs. McCormick wants to find her husband and make him return the boy to her. McCormick is described as being 5 feet, 6 inches tall, has dark hair and eyes and walks with a slight limp. He is 26 years old but looks much older. The baby has light brown hair and brown eyes, and has a slight scar on his left cheek. Mr. and Mrs. McCormick were married about four years ago. The couple have had numerous quarrels recently."

The pure food law is all right, but a lot of people would prefer a sure food law.

Pigeon Beat a Train.

Mr. Anglis, of Morehead, who recently tested the speed of one of his young pigeons as compared with the Chesapeake and Ohio train, was not satisfied with the result and had another trial made Sunday.

The same young pigeon was used in the experiment. The pigeon was let loose at Frankfort as the Chesapeake & Ohio train was departing for Morehead. The distance is 150 miles and the carrier pigeon arrived at Morehead 10 minutes earlier than the train. The train one day last week in a race from Lexington to Morehead arrived 13 minutes earlier than the bird.

 he?"

Jack—"Well, he didn't exactly pave
 the way, but he furnished the rocks."

A Joke Causes Trouble.

An altercation took place between Chief of Police E. W. Moren and City Tax Collector Robert Root, of London, Ky., at Bert Edward's restaurant late Friday night, which resulted in a pistol duel, in which both were seriously wounded. Root is shot through the right thigh and left knee and Moren is shot through the right thigh. Trouble came up over a joke.

Bourbon Teachers' Institute.

The Bourbon County Teachers' Institute was opened yesterday morning, in the County Court room, with devotional exercises, conducted by Elder Carey E. Morgan. There was a fine attendance. Superintendent F. L. McChesney made the opening address. After which committees on program, resolutions, were appointed.

Prof. M. O. Winfrey, the Democratic candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction, who is conducting the Institute, delivered a lecture on "Senses." It was a masterly effort, and at once placed Prof. Winfrey in the front rank of conductors of Teachers' Institutes. He is making a fine impression upon all he has met since coming to our city.

Mrs. Carl Long, Miss Louise Benthall, Miss Theresa McDermott and Mrs. Lizzie Stirman gave very interesting short talks upon subjects assigned.

The court room was beautifully decorated with plants and flowers, and the teachers present made an excellent choir and their sweet singing was highly enjoyed.

The Institute will be in session all of today.

The following teachers were present: Misses Hattie C. Ardery, Susie Clay, Jennie Howard, Lillian Austin, Edna Elliott, Mayo Oliver, Alice R. Kiser, Macie Talbott, Julia R. Clarke, Louise Benthall, Bessie T. Talbott, Ryda Thornton, Bettie Smith, Jessie M. Crisp, Louise Clifford, Annie T. Doty, Jennie Miller, Bertha Rankin, Lucille Sprake, Mabel Robbins, Theresa McDermott, Lillian Mason, Alma T. Rice, Ella Marshall, Oma Smith, Sallie Lawson, Josie Alexander, Lida Moore, Ethel Hart, Mary E. Wiggington, Mrs. Lizzie Stirman, Mrs. Carl Long and Mr. Virgil C. Gillispie.

Probable Contest Over Sam Bagge's Will.

The disposition of the estate of the late Sam Bagge, who committed suicide at Hutchison, this county, by blowing off his head with a stick of dynamite, is likely to find its way into court. The deceased spent two hours in the store of Lynch & Wiggins, at Hutchison, before his death, in the preparation of a will which after the act of self destruction had been committed, was turned over to his committee, C. M. Thomas.

The testator devised his property, which is valued at nearly $25,000, to his brother James Bagge, and three sisters, Mrs. Lee R. Penn, Mrs. Emma Carpenter and Miss Annie Bagge. It has now become known that Mr. Bagge, in 1889, and before his alleged temporary insanity, which necessitated his confinement in the asylum at Lexington for several years, made a will in which he left all of his property to his sister, Mrs. Penn. An effort has been made to have the matter adjusted without the expense of litigation and to the consummation of such a purpose the heirs agreed upon a committee of three farmers and neighbors of Mr. Bagge and the heirs, composed of Rev. W. Dorsey, E. E. Wood and Esquire E. P. Clabrook, who were clothed with the authority of bringing about a settlement that would be satisfactory to all concerned. The committee met in Paris without coming to an agreement that satisfied all parties concerned. They again convened and are said to be as far apart as they were at the first meeting. The attorneys employed in the case are McMillan & Talbott and C. M. Thomas for James Bagge and two sisters, Mrs. Carpenter and Miss Annie Bagge, while Hon. C. J. Bronston, of Lexington, has been retained by Mrs. Penn.

LIVE STOCK AND CROP NOTES

—Jos. Houston, of this county, bought of John Jones of Scott, forty 800-pound heifers at $3.90.

—At Lexington last week the Kentucky Sales Company disposed of 291 head of trotters for a total of $87,450, or an average of $300 a head. The highest price horse brought $1,200, so that it will be seen that the average is one of the best, if not the best, average of a sale at Lexington in years, certainly the best for the class of horses sold.

—Auctioneer A. T. Forsyth, of this city, sold for Master Commissioner H. C. Kimbrough, of Nicholas county, the lands in Nicholas county and residence in Carlisle of the late Sam Rogers, as follows: 574 acres of land near Hooktown, to W. D. McIntyre, of Millersburg, at $70 per acre; 42 acres of land near Carlisle to James Rogers, for $112 per acre, and a residence in Carlisle, to Mrs. Josephine Rogers, for $3,000. The sale aggregated $48,384.

Warrants Issued for Several Members of the Republican County Committee.

Warrants of arrest were placed in the hands of Sheriff E. P. Clarke, late yesterday afternoon, for the arrest of Wyatt A. Thompson, Chas. T. Mough, H. S. Clay and H. C. Smith (clothed). The style of the warrant is as follows: "To the Sheriff of Bourbon County: 'We command you to take, if he be found within your county, and him safely keep so that you have his body before the Judge of our Circuit Court, on the 9th day of December, 1907, to satisfy J. D. McClintock in the sum of $1,500, with 6 per cent. interest from March 30, 1907, which she said J. D. McClintock hath recovered against him for damages; also the sum of $221.75, which to the said J. D. McClintock in same court was adjudged for his cost; and that you have the same at Paris, Ky., on the 9th day of December, 1907, to satisfy and pay the said J. D. McClintock his damage and costs as before said and have then there this writ.' "Witness C. E. Butler, Clerk of our said Court, this 14th day of October, 1907. C. E. Butler, C. B. C. C."

The above is the form of the warrant that will be served on the above named gentlemen. Warrants will probably follow for A. B. Thomason and Monin Moore, after their cases are finally disposed of in the U. S. Court, where they are now pending in bankrupt proceedings.

Mr. Larkin and other members of the Committee sued by McClintock, have been found to have some property and his case is also pending in the bankrupt court.

We are informed these gentlemen cannot give bond on these warrants and will be compelled to go to jail and remain there until Circuit Court convenes unless these judgments are satisfied.

However, it is our opinion that the defendants can lay in jail for ten days and then take the insolvent debtor's oath and be released.

debt of the state which it found at the conclusion of the Republican administration, and yet he states, in this printed speech, that "the state is now in debt," and further he says "if the present administration has increased the taxes for general purposes, increased the value of property and still increases our debts, it will, if continued in office, land Kentucky in Hell eventually."

Why should the distinguished ex-governor deliberately make a statement that he and every other intelligent citizen in Kentucky knows to be untrue? Doesn't a subject of this importance deserve fair and honest treatment? Have not the people at least a right to expect that a man who had once held the exalted office of governor should tell the truth about these things? Doesn't he give our people credit for more intelligence than to think it possible for him and the other Republican candidates to deceive them, like he and Mr. Willson deceived them in 1895?

State Entirely Out of Debt.

Not only is the state entirely out of debt, but with all of the money that the administration has expended for its public institutions, its schools, colleges and its new capitol and other worthy improvements, we will have in our treasury at the close of this administration the first of next January the splendid surplus of $1,250,000. I know that a superb showing like that is discomfiting to Governor Bradley and the other Republican candidates. They cannot answer it. They cannot by jugglery of figures escape it. But it certainly does not justify them in deliberate misrepresentations and the peddling of slanders, forgeries and falsehoods to divert, if possible, the minds of the people from the real facts.

He states in his speech that this administration had only appropriated $1,987,789.21, while we state that a larger amount has been appropriated for worthy purposes. If the gentleman will look on Page 21 of the Democratic campaign hand-book, a copy of which I presume he has, he will find a list of the items showing for what purposes each appropriation was made, amounting to $2,701,062.07, all of which will have been paid by the close of this administration and yet leave a surplus in the treasury as above stated. This list is taken from the records, and it will be easy for him to verify it if he wants to know the truth about it. He says in his speech, "the Republican administration was not only economical; did not only pay off Democratic indebtedness, but it did many other worthy things."

In Conflict With the Truth.

In the light of the facts which I have stated and which cannot be disputed, I submit to the intelligent voters this marvelous statement of the ex-governor. Of the "many worthy things" accomplished during his administration the only thing that he attempts to show is the establishment of the House of Reform. I shall quote his exact words about that wonderful achievement, for which he claims credit, and then quote Section 252 of the constitution of the state, and let the voters pass an opinion for themselves upon the veracity of the ex-governor. Here is what he said: "For nearly 100 years Kentucky failed to erect any house of reform, but suffered children convicted of crime to be associated in the penitentiary with old and hardened criminals. It remained for a Republican governor to denounce this outrage and urge the building of such an institution—and this was accomplished during his administration." The new constitution of Kentucky was adopted in 1891, and here is Section 252: "It shall be the duty of the general assembly to provide by law, as soon as practicable, for the establishment and maintenance of an institution, or institutions, for the detention, correction, instruction and reformation of all persons under the age of eighteen years, convicted of such felonies and such misdemeanors as may be designated by law. Said institution shall be known as the House of Reform." The Democratic general assembly of 1898, when I was speaker of the house of representatives, passed this law providing for the establishment of the House of Reform. The Republican general assembly of 1896-97 had nothing to do with it. It is evident, therefore, that his statement which I have quoted is not only in conflict with the truth, but with the constitution and laws of the commonwealth.

Willful Misrepresentation.

I shall refer to another deliberate and willful misrepresentation of his in which he states that I had held the Republican administration responsible for the entire $1,000,000 of bonded indebtedness which we found against the state in February, 1900. I did nothing of the kind, for in my opening speech, and others, I have stated that when the Republican administration borrowed $500,000 they thereby "doubled the bonded debt of the state," which, of course, to any sensible man means that there was already a bonded debt of $500,000 when the Republicans doubled it.

Governor Bradley read my opening speech, as his speech shows, and said that I expressed it in that way. He charges that we have been collecting more taxes from the railroads than he did while he was governor. That is true, and we are glad that he has called attention to it. He says that under his administration the franchise valuation placed on the railroads for taxation was an average of $11,329,349.00, while under the Democratic administration the average has been $22,921,478. No one has complained that we have made the railroads pay exorbitant taxes, for they have pro-

pered more than ever before under Democratic administration, but we have compelled them to pay upon a fair valuation of their property. From his figures it appears that we have doubled the valuation upon them since his administration. The tax at 50 cents on this difference would be $7,960, which multiplied by 8 gives $63,680 more collected in taxes from this one source in the eight years of our administration than would have been collected under the valuation of the Republican administration. That increase alone is enough to pay for one-third of the cost of our new capitol. This is one of the things which goes to explain how the Democrats, with a less tax rate than the Republicans, have been able to do so much for the upbuilding of the state institutions. The records show that in 1899, the last year of Republican administration, there were only seven railroads assessed in the state for taxation, while, in 1906, under Democratic administration, there were nineteen railroads assessed for taxation. There has been much development of railroad business in the state under Democratic administration, and some few lines built, but not enough to make up the wide difference between 7 and 19. The Democratic general assembly of 1898 passed the McChord railroad rate bill, a measure of vast interest to our people, but Governor Bradley vetoed that measure and delayed its passage until 1900, when I became governor and signed it. Under that law our people have been saved thousands and tens of thousands of dollars from extortionate charges and discriminations by the railroad companies. It is not surprising, therefore, that the Republican governor who vetoed that measure could find only seven railroad corporations in the state to tax. The Democratic administration has been fair and reasonable to the railroads, and encouraged their progress and development in the state, but it has also insisted that they shall bear their just portion of taxation and be fair and reasonable in their dealings with the people.

The Cause of Education.

Governor Bradley says nothing at all about the schools and the cause of education because he knows that nothing was done for them during his and Taylor's administrations. He knows the vast good done for them under Democratic administration, and therefore ignores the subject. He does not even attempt to explain the flagrant action of his administration in the year 1899 in padding the school fund and increasing the school per capita to $2.70 for its effect upon the campaign of that year. Nor does he answer the charge that this inexcusable attempt for campaign material caused a deficit the following year of $147,000 in the school fund, which the Democratic administration had to make good, and caused the per capita that year to fall to $2.45. The Democratic administration has raised it from $2.45 to $2.40. It has increased the school term from five months to six months of free tuition throughout the commonwealth. It has established two normal schools for our teachers. It has given generously to the State College and to the State Colored Normal School. It has passed the school-book bill in the face of his and his party's opposition, that gives to the school children of the state their school books at one-third less than they formerly paid. In the face of Republican promises, which can never be relied upon, it presents facts like these.

He complains that we have no platform. The record of the Democratic administration is a sufficient platform, and the people consider it far preferable to the vain promises in the Republican platform. Their experience with the Bradley and Taylor administrations has taught them that Republican platform promises are not worth the paper they are written on.

By a jugglery of figures he tries to show that the cost of public printing under his administration was less than it has been under Democratic administration. He states what the records prove to be untrue, for those records show that under Democratic administration there has been a much greater amount of public printing done than under the Republican administration and at $2,567.91 less cost per year.

He also says, and I quote his words: "Why did the party they claim to represent decline to make an appropriation to advance the interest of Kentucky at the St. Louis and Jamestown expositions? Why did they leave the state they loved in the humiliating attitude of having no building?" On the other hand I ask why does the ex-governor, in such a question, state a proposition which he knows to be untrue? This administration did make an appropriation in the general assembly of 1904 of $75,000 for an exhibit at the St. Louis exposition, and everybody knows, who visited that exposition, that Kentucky was one of the best represented states there.

Brazen Distortion of Facts.

It is impossible, with the limitations of time upon this address to rectify all the bare-faced and brazen distortions of facts and perversions of figures in that remarkable speech of his. It is without a parallel for inaccuracy, misrepresentation and deception.

Long as is that speech there is a conspicuous absence of any reference to the collection of the civil war claims by Capt. Calhoun. Why has the distinguished ex-governor nothing to say about that important matter which came up in his administration, and also in mine? His associate candidates have tried to make some capital out of the fee paid Capt. Calhoun for that work. The amount collected was $1,324,000, and Capt. Calhoun's fee was a little over $71,000, or a fraction more than 5 per cent, the lowest fee paid by any state in the Union for similar collections. Gov. Bradley knew of the existence of this claim because he approved vouchers for $575.00 for expenses for having it investigated. In a letter signed by his assistant adjutant-general, whom he appointed, that official says: "I will state that in the year of 1896 I learned of the decision in the New York case, and I at once set about to enforce the collection of the claim of Kentucky and for the purpose went to Washington in January, 1897, and collected data and decisions which convinced me that Kentucky could recover something near one hundred thousand dollars. I came back to Frankfort and laid the whole matter before the governor and it seemed little faith was placed by the state administration in the success of prosecuting the claim and the governor and auditor decided that they would not advance expenses, etc., and the matter was dropped as I did not feel justified in advancing my own money. I had no doubt if I had done so I could have received a contingent fee of 25 per cent if I had taken the risk of collections."

If such a contract had been made by Gov. Bradley and the same amount had been collected then the fee for its collection would have been $330,000 instead of $71,000. But nothing further was done by that administration toward the collection of this money, and when I came into office I employed Capt. Calhoun to collect it. After that employment the distinguished ex-governor who had failed in his duty in the matter as governor sought to get employment with Capt. Calhoun and secure a part of the fee. He wrote the following letter to Calhoun:

"February 19th, 1902

"Dear Captain:—I notice that a bill has been passed authorizing the employment of counsel in collection of Kentucky war claim.

"I write merely to suggest that I might be of some assistance and will thank you if you see fit to make some suggestions concerning the matter. Your friend,

(Signed) "W. O. BRADLEY."

Facts Speak for Themselves.

These facts speak for themselves, and it is not necessary to aid anyone in forming a sensible conclusion about them. After his dereliction of duty as governor in regard to this important matter he sought to make amends by an attempt to divide the fee for collection with Capt. Calhoun. And yet he boasts of the "many worthy things" and the "splendid financial achievements" of his administration! He undertakes to justify his action in the election of 1899—his use of the military then, and at other times—but history has stamped with its vigorous disapproval those acts of his and his usurpations of power. No excuse whatever can be given for what he did, and time cannot wipe out the disgraceful blot of his unwarranted action in those matters. He says that Goebel and the Democratic ticket were not elected. The general assembly of the state said that they were. The courts, from the circuit court of the state to the supreme court of the United States vindicated that decision of the general assembly. In the election of 1900, when I was the candidate of the Democratic party to fill out Gov. Goebel's unexpired term, the Republicans made that question an issue in the campaign. They had a corruption fund, furnished by the National Republican Committee, of $207,000 to defeat the Democratic ticket, and yet the people in that election indorsed the decision of their general assembly by electing me with nearly 4,600 majority. They further indorsed that action in the election of 1903 by electing our state ticket with nearly 27,000 majority. That question has been settled by every possible earthly tribunal, settled in every instance in our favor. He has the hardihood to boast of his action in using the militia at the polls in 1899, and yet he could not spend his remaining years with better grace than in the continual effort to apologize to the people for that crime against free elections, and that blow at civil liberty. He spoils his argument by undertaking to refer to the election of 1905 in the city of Louisville, which was declared void by the court of appeals last spring. The history of that case shows that remedies for fraudulent elections may be found in our courts, and not by the use of military at the polls. His reference to that case was most unfortunate for there it was shown that a Democratic court would remedy such evils even where Democratic officials should lose their places, and in the opinion of the court in that case it was held that the use of military at the polls would invalidate an election.

His attempt to make fun of the election in the Rally's Mill precinct in Franklin county, where it is claimed there were 104 votes fraudulently counted for the Democratic tickets amounts to little. The Democratic party condemns fraud in elections, and when this matter was brought to light a Democratic court and a Democratic grand jury promptly indicted the guilty parties.

One fraud does not justify another, and yet it would be possible, if worth while, to show in that same election where far greater frauds, especially in some of the Republican counties, were committed against the Democratic ticket.

Might Have Averted Calamity.

When he undertakes to repudiate Taylor and his administration we confront him with his own bad record at that time. No man in Frankfort during those dark days did more to stir up the angry passions of the mob and bring about lawlessness and crime than did Governor Bradley, the friend and attorney of Taylor, in his violent and inflammatory utterances. In his sworn testimony as a witness in one of the Goebel assassination cases he admitted that he had been informed several times of the plot to murder William Goebel, and yet, although Goebel had once signally befriended him, he failed to go and warn him of his danger. He cannot excuse his failure to do so by saying that two or three of the fellows who were in the plot came and told him there was nothing in it. He cannot excuse it now by denouncing that assassination as an infamous outrage. With the information which he received, and which subsequent developments have shown to be correct, he might have averted that calamity and saved the life of the man who had once done him such a great favor. He was in the convention, his friend, Mr. Willson, and other Republican candidates were in that same Republican convention which "indorsed, without reserve the resolute and patriotic conduct of W. S. Taylor."

He bewails the fact that Democratic leaders in this campaign refer at all to the events of that dark and bloody period. We Democrats regret that it is necessary to refer to them, but we would be recreant to our duty to the people if we failed to call attention to these matters that happened less than eight years ago, and which illustrate, more than words can picture, the character and results of Republican administration in this state. I state a fact that every citizen knows to be true, that the period from December, 1895, when Bradley became governor, to February, 1900, when Taylor was unseated, was the blackest and gloomiest in the history of the state, with the possible exception of the Civil war. The record of that administration is as barren as a desert. There was not a single good deed in it, nor a single event that marked advancement and progress for our people. From the gloom of such a disastrous record it is natural that these Republican candidates should turn in dismay and seek, by a resurrection of exploded slanders, forgeries and falsehoods, to mislead the minds of the people, and prevent them from considering the real issues of the campaign. If time would permit me I could show in many instances where the candidates of the Republican state ticket, including Mr. Willson, have pursued the same policy as Governor Bradley did in this speech, and have deliberately misrepresented the facts and stated things which they knew to be untrue. In my campaign from one end of the state to the other I have been amazed at the extent to which some of these men have gone in their perversion of facts.

The Temperance Question.

Governor Bradley in his speech tries to belittle the temperance question in this contest, and says "probably the people at large would have more confidence in the professions of Beckham and Hager if they could show any act in favor of temperance during their official career." That means that the ex-governor states that nothing has been done for the temperance cause during this administration. The record of the laws passed and enforced by us is a complete refutation of this statement. There is no fair-minded, non-partisan temperance advocate in Kentucky who does not say that under this administration, and with its assistance Kentucky has obtained some of the wisest and best temperance laws that can be found in any state in the Union. These facts are so well known to our people that it is unnecessary to adduce further proof to show the falsity of his statement. Judge Hager and the Democratic candidates can point to the record of the Democratic administration upon this question as a guarantee of their sincerity and position on it. There is nothing plainer in this campaign than the effort of Mr. Willson to dodge, or straddle, this question. They cannot attack our position by the use of slander and calumny. The bitterness and unfairness of the distinguished ex-governor toward us can be accounted for to some extent by the fact that much of this temperance legislation which we have passed is distasteful to some of his best clients. Consequently, when he discusses this issue in the campaign we are unable to tell whether he is most representing these clients or the Republican ticket. But he should not allow his earnestness as an attorney to cause him to lose his temper and provoke him to make such vicious and unwarranted attacks upon us. The Democratic party has no apologies to make for its record upon this question, and confidently trusts that the people of the state will not be misled by the character of campaign waged upon its candidates by Governor Bradley and his satellites. The issue is so clear that those who run may read. It is a choice between the policies of the Bradley-Taylor administration, for which Mr. Willson stands, and the policies of the Democratic administration represented by Judge Hager and his ticket. No sensible, patriotic or intelligent citizen can hesitate in such a choice. The campaign is now more than half over. I have been in every part of the state, and it is my candid opinion from what I have seen and heard that the Democratic ticket will, Nov. 5, be elected by an overwhelming majority. The people of Kentucky love fair play and condemn hypocrisy. They are determined that a ticket like the Republican ticket, which bases its campaign upon falsehood and deception, shall not succeed in this glorious old commonwealth.

Unconscious Humor.

A class of little folk in an English elementary school were recently asked to define a lady, with curious results. The definition of Lizzie, aged seven, will strike a responsive chord in the heart of the busy woman and shows that Lizzie must be an observing person. "A lady is something like a man," says Lizzie, "but she's got long hair and she's got a different face and different clothes, and she's got a lot of work to do." Charlie, aged six, is impressed by the difference between the sexes. "A lady," he finds to be "different from a man because a lady has different clothes from a man, a lady has a different body from a man, and a lady has different shoes from a man." Howard, aged seven, gets at the same facts from a different point of view. "A lady," he says, "has not got some trousers, but a man has got some trousers." A second Charlie, a year older than the first one, thinks that "a lady is a nice woman because she don't have torn clothes, and she has a woch with her, and she has a chane on the woch."

Not a Stranger to Her.

The conductor of the Pullman car had for some time had his eye on the man who seemed to be fishing for an excuse to speak to the lady across the aisle. The passenger finally left his seat and took one beside her, and when they had conversed for a few minutes the lady seemed to be protesting, and the conductor's opportunity had come. He stepped forward and said:

"Madam, if this man is forcing his attentions upon you he must resume his own seat."

"He is not exactly a stranger to me," she admitted.

"But you seemed to be annoyed, madam."

"I am not exactly annoyed, but I wish he wouldn't talk to me."

"I am simply arguing a case," explained the man.

"Yes, but there is nothing to argue. We have been married and divorced twice, and now I've married another man, and we can't be married again until he dies. Give it up, Jimmy—give it up and go back to your seat."—Chicago News.

If Washington Were There.

Two prominent society women of Washington were seated in the gallery reserved for the families of congressmen.

"What a grand body of men!" exclaimed the younger of the two enthusiastically.

"Do you think so?" asked the other demurely.

"Why, of course, I do. See how alert and businesslike they are. I am sure if George Washington could come back to congress he would be proud of such a dazzling spectacle."

"I fear, dear," remarked the elder of the two seriously, "that if George Washington were to come back and see congress he would lose no time in delivering another farewell address."—Lippincott's.

Early Use of Tobacco.

I have heard my grandfather say that one pipe was handed from man to man round about the table. They had first silver pipes; the ordinary sort made use of a walnut shell and a straw. Tobacco was sold then for its weight in silver. I have heard some of our old yeomen neighbors say that when they went to Malmesbury or Chippenham market they called out their biggest shillings to lay in the scales against the tobacco. Sir W. R., standing in a stand at Sir Robert Poyntz's park at Acton, took a pipe of tobacco, which made the ladies quit it until he had done.—"Brief Lines Set Down by John Aubrey," 1689-96.

Two Acre Farms.

In Belgium a two acre holding is sufficient to maintain a farmer and his family. The typical two acre farm in that country contains a patch of wheat or rye and another of barley. Another fair portion grows potatoes. A row of cabbage grows all round on the sloping sides of the ditches, with a row of onions just outside, leaving bare walking room between them and the grain. The shade trees round the house are pear trees. Every foot of land is made to produce, and the farmer keeps pigs and chickens.

Turned Down.

"Beg pardon, sir," said the waiter, with outstretched palm, "but haven't you forgotten something?" "No," replied the departing guest. "but I'm trying to forget it. Good day."—Catholic Standard and Times.

THE SECRET OF SUCCESS

"No, Sir! You cannot palm off any substitute on me. I've been using August Flower since I was a boy, and I'll have no other."

Forty million bottles of August Flower sold in the United States alone since its introduction! And the demand for it is still growing. Isn't that a fine showing of success? Don't it prove that August Flower has had unflinching success in the cure of indigestion and dyspepsia—the worst enemies of health and happiness? Does it not afford the best evidence that August Flower is a sure specific for all stomach and intestinal disorders?—that it is the best of all liver regulators? August Flower has a matchless record of over 35 years in curing the ailing millions of these distressing complaints. Two sizes, 25c and 75c. All druggists.

THE FEMALE COLLEGE TO BE REBUILT.

When it was realized on Wednesday that the Millersburg Female College must go down in flames, the question on every lip was, "what are we to do?" In the afternoon while the building was yet burning, and before the flames had hardly begun to scorch the immense coal pile in the cellar, a mass meeting was called at the opera house in which the spirit of determination to rebuild was inaugurated. Another meeting was called Thursday afternoon in which President Fisher was urged to make known his desires. He was in no condition to do this, oppressed by the heavy loss. Saturday called to the phone or telegraph office to answer an inquiry from anxious mothers about the loved daughters, helping many of the young ladies and teachers to get their personal effects together, doubtless evolving many schemes in his mind, some of which perhaps were not at all practicable, all this rendered him unfit to make known his desires and yet this was urged, as though people thought the burning of the coal pile in the cellar would eventually destroy the entire college campus. A proposition was made him, which he for the time accepted, which on the streets when discussed after the meeting with rather severe criticism.

Since Thursday the committee has been meeting each day. Saturday it was rumored that President Fisher had a proposition to lay before the committee, which was done that night. His proposition was even better than first reported.

A large and enthusiastic mass meeting was held at the Methodist church Sunday afternoon, in which there were quite a number of short addresses made, and the proposition made known, which is as follows: President Fisher to give to the town and community the college campus and all that is on it, five thousand dollars in money, what furniture and pianos that were saved, deeding all this to the town and community to be continued for all time to come as a school for young ladies, if the citizens of the town and community will raise $25,000, granting him the privilege when the school is built of running it for a period of ten years.

A soliciting committee was named and territory mapped out. This committee began work at an early hour Monday morning and it is believed that enough of this money will be raised in the next few days to insure the remainder. The committee will visit you in pairs, when they come be prepared.

—The cadets of the M. M. I. are soon to have a semi-monthly paper which will be quite an addition to the School. It will embrace all subjects pertaining to the institution and will be a spicy sheet. We are looking forward to its first publication with much interest. The literary department will be largely contributed to by Capt. F. A. McGuder, who is conversant with all subjects from mathematic to poetry and love-making. Capt. F. J. Riley will bring up the athletic department, and can wield the pen as gracefully as he can throw or catch a ball, and fling at you all the technical term in foot and base ball. The military department will be in charge of Major Sawyer and Capt. Moorier, who, it is safe to say will not be wanting in their part of the work.

SLATTERY & VIMONT.

Negro's Slayer Acquitted.

About 1 o'clock Saturday morning, in a difficulty in the saloon of James Curtis, on Winchester street, at the L. & N. crossing, J. E. Wilder shot and killed William Embry, a negro alleged to have been a desperate character, who resided near Hutchison, this county.

Wilder is night bar-tender and had just finished serving two men, who are eyewitnesses to the tragedy, when Embry, who was under the influence of liquor, entered and called for a glass of beer. Wilder waited on the man, who attempted by remarks to draw out a quarrel with the bystanders, and was asked by Wilder not to create a disturbance in the house.

To this Embry took exceptions and began using abusive language and hurled a heavy beer glass at his head. Wilder dodged the missile, which struck him in the chest, whereupon he drew his revolver and fired, the bullet entering his lung, from the effect of which he died almost instantly.

Wilder was placed under arrest by Officer James Burke and upon the opening of county court Saturday morning, surrendered to Judge Dundon his bond being fixed at $1,000, which he promptly gave.

At his examining trial yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock before Judge Dundon, the evidence pointed to a clear case of self-defense and Wilder was acquitted.

Black Walnuts as Fuel.

Black walnuts are better for fuel than coal. They burn easier, make a quicker and hotter fire and last well. There is a big crop of black walnuts in Owen county this year, says the Owen County Democrat. Gather and dry them in the barn with the hulls on them and use them just the same as you would coal. You can mix with coal or wood if you prefer. A ton of black walnuts will make more and better heat than a ton of coal. Coal is very high this year. Save your walnut crops and you will save just that much money. Try it and you will be convinced.

Wellman's Ship Wrecked.

The arctic steamer Frithjof, which accompanied the Wellman Chicago Record-Herald expedition, to Spitzbergen, was lost off Cape Langenes, Iceland, October 5.

The captain and fifteen of her crew were drowned. The engineer clung to a plank, on which he drifted ashore. The Frithjof was homeward bound to Norway, having been damaged by ice and consequently was unable to withstand a storm which she encountered off Cape Langenes.

Railroad Found Guilty.
